Corvette stolen from car lot

A 1973 Chevrolet Corvette, valued at more than $5,000, was apparently stolen from the used car lot at John Teresi Chev-Olds on Route 173. Ray Scarpelli, co-owner of the agency, reported to police that the red-and-white car was discovered missing Friday morning, April 19. He said that it had been on the lot as late as 9:00 Thursday night. According to the police report, the car had been locked, and the keys were still in the dealer's garage Friday morning.

POUR FLOOR: While it may look like workmen of EMCO Contractors are creating a giant pancake, they are actually pouring the concrete foundation for the Antioch treatment plant expansion. According to Public Works Superintendent Tod Mapleshorpe, the components of the system, which are due to be delivered May 1, will be assembled and mounted on this base. He said that the entire plant expansion project is about 30-percent complete. For a story on several other recent sewer and water improvements, see page 4. (Staff photo)

"Get together," engineer tells Chain residents

An engineer and former director of the Illinois Division of Waterways told a gathering of Chain-o-Lakes area residents that one of the major problems in getting any action on the problems of the Chain has been a lack of "unity of the people in the Chain-o-Lakes area."

"There is a great need for unity of action on the part of the people who live in the two counties, who are on the lakes, who use the lakes, and who have interest (in them)," John Guillou told more than 150 people crowded into the Fox Lake Village Hall for Friday's second public hearing conducted by the Chain-o-Lakes Study Commission.

The real problem is one of getting funding from the government to do anything, unless there is a united front, he said. The people of the area must establish their priorities before approaching government for funds, he counseled, adding that creation of the study commission - with eight legislators among its 12 members - was "a real fine triumph" in terms of getting action on the people's wishes.

The time situation is critical, Guillou warned, for the Chain, which he called "THE best water-oriented recreation region within one of finest and largest metropolitan areas in the world.

"You are - if you are not already there - you are rapidly approaching the very, very critical time as to whether the Chain can or cannot be saved," the engineer said. While there is a need for studies, he continued, the residents of the area, together with the commission and the various State officials involved, must "determine where work should be done immediately."

Another responsibility of the people who live in the area, according to Guillou, is to "develop local money... input from the local area on a dollars and cents point... so that you folks in the General Assembly can say, 'The people of the Chain... are not asking for a handout.'"

To emphasize the critical importance of local unity and participation, Guillou hinged the success of the commission's task on it.

"If this commission has to walk that road alone, the commission likely will not get the job done," he stated. "But if the commission walks the road with the people of the area, then there's no question that it will be accomplished."

Guillou's expertise seemed to dominate the hearing, even though Anthony Dean, director of the Department of Conservation, had been expected to be the key witness.

Dean had responded to a commission invitation to testify in March that he was unable to do so until mid-April. At that time, commission members had expressed an interest in grilling Dean as to his department's policy with respect to preservation of the Chain. Residents who attended the first hearing, March 22, were urged to come back with their questions when Dean would be present.

At Friday's hearing, Dean led off with a review of progress to date and contemplated action in six areas that had been raised the last time he spoke in the lakes region, about a year ago. Those six areas were: 1) reduction of rough fish populations, 2) placement of navigation aids, 3) study of cost benefits of dredging, 4) local representation on the Department of Conservation Advisory Board, 5) control of water levels, and 6) coordination of law enforcement.

Dean reported that, in conjunction with Leo Eisel, director of the Division of Water Resource Management, and Dr. Ackerman of the University of Illinois Water Survey, his

Operation HELP is successful

Antioch Rescue Squad officials termed the Operation HELP program conducted Sunday at the high school a definite success. The event was sponsored by both the Antioch and Lake Villa Rescue Squads to teach citizens the techniques of Cardio-Pulmonary Resuscitation (CPR).

About 150 persons showed up to see a film on heart-related medical emergencies and to see

-- and practice -- the life-saving procedures. Doctors Robert Barnes, Edward Aberholden and James Kopriva were also in attendance to answer questions and assist with the program.

The session in Antioch was one of 14 held at the same time throughout Lake County and sponsored by the Heart Association in cooperation with various local health and emergency agencies.

ABC'S OF TRAVEL

Endless summer

You owe it to yourself. Think about what it isn't - months-long siege of gloomy skies, crowded commuter trains or major traffic jams, lying around with a nasty cold, remembering your gloves, hat and boots, heading for bed right after the news, learning to hate your alarm clock - bananas!

Think about what it is OR could be - Staying up late and sleeping till noon, lingering over breakfast in bed, learning a new sport or practicing an old one, feeling the warm sun on your skin, tasting fresh-washed air and home-baked bread, pleasuring yourself with a night club show, remembering the joy of being alive, or just good - natural relaxation.

All this is as near as your telephone for your local travel agent knows travel inside and out. They know how to get the most out of your travel dollar which is number one today. Also he knows all the special air fares of which only a professional knows about.

Remember, summer is just around the corner; school will be out shortly and families will begin on the move. Whether it is helpful hints for the regular family trip by auto or you are contemplating the idea of a fly/drive trip this summer as a result of the energy bit - call your travel agent and he can give you all the help and advice with NO cost to you.

We don't want to tell you where to go, just want to tell you how and as reasonable as possible - a dollar is a dollar and nothing else.

Members of the Millburn Congregational United Church of Christ have called the Reverend Donald A. McPeck to join them as their pastor.

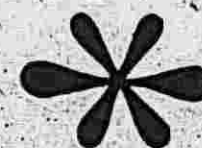

A native of the Chicago area, McPeck graduated from the Lancaster Theological Seminary in Lancaster, Pennsylvania in 1964. He became Assistant Pastor of St. John's United Church of Christ in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, after graduation, serving there until 1966. He then became the Pastor

LIBRARY WEEK, 1974

In any society, while certain national or local leaders may debate public action and policy, the ultimate make-up -- or break-up -- of the society is determined by the people themselves. This is especially true in the United States, where even the national, state and local elected officials must answer to the people.

The better informed the public is, the more wisely they will choose the course of action the nation is to follow. A key element of public information is the written word. Books, magazines, newspapers, pamphlets and other printed matter contain and convey the knowledge upon which or freedom is built.

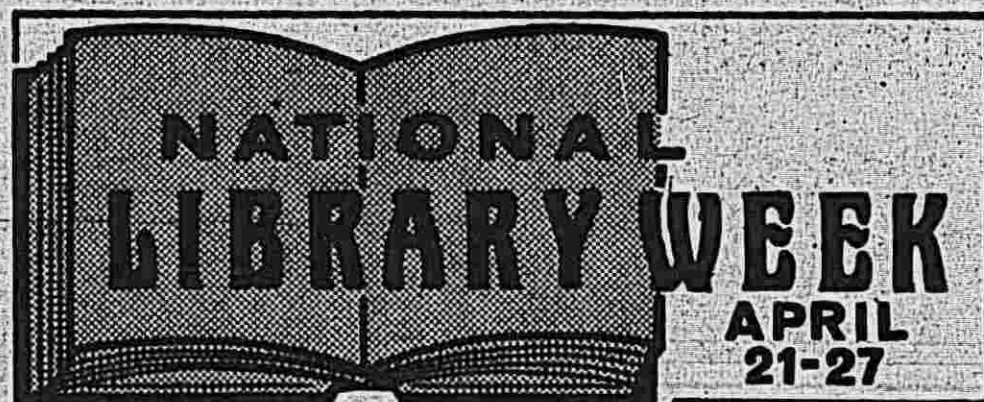

The public library, as much as the public school, is the essential foundation in a democracy. Only where knowledge -- and the education to use knowledge wisely -- is freely available to all can freedom flourish.

The public library is the reference point in every community where people of all ages and all walks of life go to learn or to read for pleasure.

In Antioch we are fortunate to have a modern, well-staffed, township library containing a wealth of reading material for nearly every interest and geared to every age group. Local and national newspapers are available in the pleasant reading room. Records, films, and even works of art may be borrowed. The library also sponsors a travelogue series for family pleasure.

During National Library Week, April 21-27, we congratulate the library board and the local citizens who have continued to support this important public facility with their tax dollars.

Make it a habit to visit -- and use -- your public library.

Committee Reform

A resolution for committee reform--pending in the U.S. House of Representatives--will further strengthen the role of Congress in the Federal system.

The last committee revision was in 1974 and since then a wide division of committee authority over national affairs has taken place.

Environmental legislation is being handled in any number of committees: Ways and Means (which was primarily charged with tax and revenue jurisdiction) has garnered control of social legislation including medicare, social security and health care.

A ten-man bipartisan committee--Democrats and Republicans, conservatives and liberals--has recommended the establishment of 19 standing House committees. Two committees dismantled in the proposed reorganization will be the Committee on Internal Security--which will be transferred to the Committee on Government Operations--and the Post Office and Civil Service Committee--transferred to the proposed Labor Committee.

Tariffs and foreign trade will be removed from Ways and Means and moved to the Foreign Affairs Committee. This will mean an increased and truly effective role in foreign relations for the Committee and for the full House.

The resolution for reform will logically remove food stamps from the Agricultural Committee to Ways and Means and education at agricultural colleges and school milk programs from Agricultural to the Education Committee.

Two temporary or so-called "select" committees will become permanent--Small Business and Committee on Standards of Official Conduct.

Details of the proposed committee restructuring are contained in House Resolution 988 expected to come to the floor of the House in early May.

In urging adoption of the committee reform plan, Congressman Richard Bolling (D-Mo), chairman of the bipartisan "reform" group, says, "Some committees do not have much to do. Others are so busy they must neglect urgent public business within their jurisdiction. Committees in the House afford a subject a sense of place, a home in which its constituency can centralize strategy, develop friends and rebuff foes. National issues need a legislative point of convergence which only committees can provide."

According to Congressman Bolling, the new plan is described as balanced. The members of the U.S. House of Representatives are expected to agree with this view.

Letters to the Editor on any current issues are welcome. Only letters with names can be considered for this column. Signatures will be withheld on request. Letters cannot be returned and are subject to minor editing.

"Breast Cancer: Where we are"

The newest and most complete report on breast cancer ever shown on local television has been scheduled by Station WBBM-TV. The American Cancer Society's new film, 'Breast Cancer: Where We Are' will be seen on channel 2 on Sunday, April 28th at 10:30 p.m. and Monday, April 29th at 4:30 p.m., through special arrangements with the Lake County Unit, it was announced today by Peter L. Vinciguerra, M.D., President.

Dr. Justin J. Stein, President of the American Cancer Society, (National organization) says of the film, "Graphically illustrating newest detection equipment and techniques, mammography and thermography, and the vital aspects of breast self-examination, this film can save many lives. It can sweep away the mystery, fear, shame and misconceptions that have surrounded breast cancer for so long. It will show women they can survive cancer of the breast through modern detection techniques and treatment and enjoy completely normal lives after treatment."

Actress Jennifer O'Neill was selected to narrate the film after her own personal experience with fear of breast cancer. Editor John Mack Carter of the Ladies Home Journal, Helen Gurley Brown of Cosmopolitan, syndicated columnist Ann Landers, actress Tammy Grimes, Dr. Arthur I. Holleb, Senior Vice President for Medical Affairs and Research for the American Cancer Society; and Dr. Lisa Tallal, formerly of Memorial Hospital, now at New York Hospital; Dr. Philip Strax, head of the Gultman Institute, New York; and Dr. Dan H. Moore, head of the Institute for Medical Research, Camden, New Jersey, explain how to cope and come back after breast cancer surgery, and how to benefit from new detection methods now beginning to be available in many areas.

Mrs. William Brook, Antioch Residential Chairman, today states, "Our Unit believes that 'Breast Cancer: Where We Are' is one of the most important films ever produced by the American Cancer Society. As the National President of the Society has said, affected women who heed the information in this broadcast are likely to owe their lives to it. Our objective is to make certain that every woman from the teen years upwards knows about the program, what channel it's on, and at what time. This program will strip away the veil of secrecy that formerly inhibited women from acting in their own behalf against breast cancer. Station WBBM-TV's telecast of 'Breast Cancer: Where We Are' will be the most important program in many women's lives."

Of sewers and things

Water is, at one and the same time, one of the most desirable features of the Lake Region and one of the area's most constant nemeses.

While it is the abundance of lakes and streams that draws people to the area, thus giving economic life; providing water to the homes and businesses, carrying off the excess of Spring and Summer rains, and disposing of the region's wastewater without further polluting those lakes and streams pose a constant challenge to government officials.

Antioch in 1974 is in the peak of a flurry of activity to meet those challenges. By the end of the year, almost $900,000 will have been expended in a two-year period for sewer and water projects within the Village.

The lion's share of this money is going to enlarge the capacity of the sewage treatment plant, located on the north bank of Sequoit Creek at Turner Drive. Under a $578,352 contract, EMCO Contractors of Elgin is building new settling tanks, aeration system, and a tertiary filter that will double the present 500,000 gallon-per-day capacity of the treatment plant.

Most of the new facilities will be housed in a single large structure, for which the foundation was poured last week.

Engineering fees and other costs raise the total expenditure for the treatment plant enlargement to about $630,000, covered in part by a $471,900 federal grant. The remainder will be paid with a portion of the $340,000 raised by the sale last week of bonds to be repaid out of sewer and water department revenues.

Storm water has been (pardon the expression) a long-standing problem in Antioch. Storm sewers have frequently been found of too small capacity to handle sudden downpours, or not conveniently laid out to carry off the Spring thaw. Projects undertaken in the past few years are attacking some of the most persistent problem areas.

Much of the Oakwood Knolls subdivision drains to the south, and the run-off water collects at the lowest points, along Maplewood Dr. near Cedarwood and Hazelwood. The storm sewers installed years ago to handle this run off are inadequate for any large amounts of water.

W.H. Lyman Construction Co. of Palatine is currently laying a sewer, ranging in size from 30 to 54 inches, that will replace the existing 18 to 24-inch one that collects water at Cedarwood and Maplewood. Antioch is paying $80,000 for the new sewer, which extends to the corner of the former Curnes property, where Arbor Ltd. has agreed to extend it, in a 60-inch sewer, to a retention pond to be constructed as part of their apartment-townhouse development.

Motorists who regularly use north Main St. will recall the installation last summer of a storm sewer in that locality. A new line was constructed under that street from Poplar Ave. north to First St. From there it branches out in two directions.

One leg goes further north on Main and is to be connected to a storm sewer promised by Triton developers to service their Joanna apartment project. The other branch extends west under First St. and north on Parkway, almost to North Ave.

At the south end, this $89,000 sewer empties into one built in mid-1971. This latter storm sewer—a $42,000 project—collects water from the Village Park behind the Scout House and carries it west under Poplar and south under Cunningham Dr. to Sequoit Creek. The Main St.-Parkway sewer was essentially an extension of this earlier line.

Work is expected to begin soon on a $51,000 contract just awarded to W.H. Lyman to build a new sewer that will replace an old, out-dated sanitary sewer that presently runs under Main St. in the downtown area.

Carrying raw sewage to the treatment plant, this line will begin at an existing sewer at Park Ave. and the railroad tracks. Extending for about half a block under Park Ave., the sewer will then cut northwesterly across the area behind the stores on the east side of Main. It will empty into an existing sewer at Depot St. near Main. A short line on Ida Ave. near Bishop St. is also part of this project.

Of course, these few lines make up only a small part of the total sanitary and storm sewer system in Antioch. However, they fill important gaps in this system, or upgrade service which has been inadequate in the past.

In a related project earlier this Spring, a watermain was extended from the Village well and pump house near Quaker Industries on McMillen Road. The main runs south on McMillen and ties into another main along the south side of Route 173, creating a full loop in the water distribution system in this area. Such looping improves water service by increasing pressure and keeping the water moving in the mains.

Village officials are also planning for the construction of a new water storage tank, to be financed out of the water and sewer revenue bonds. However, that project is not yet ready for bidding.

Zion Unit II shut down for generator repairs

The Region II office of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission's Directorate of Regulatory Operations has been informed by the Commonwealth Edison Company of Chicago that Zion Nuclear Power Station, Unit II, will be out of service for at least several weeks for repairs to the plant's electrical generator.

Commonwealth has reported that an electrical short occurred on Wednesday in the windings of the Unit II generator and that the plant was taken out of service. The problem involves conventional electrical generating equipment and does not involve the reactor portion of the plant. Zion Unit II's 1,050,000 kilowatt pressurized water reactor was operating at 60 percent of full power at the time of the fault.

"Got Together" Engineer tells Chain Residents

department is conducting a "quick and dirty study" of dredging and water level problems on the Chain. In response to a question from Clem Haley of Antioch, he indicated that such a study involves reading the studies already completed and deciding to do something.

While the study is short-term, Dean contended that it would be important. It is, he said, "not a decision-avoiding study," but "should provide responses and some answers to some serious and long-term problems." The study was undertaken about a month-and-a-half ago, and it is hoped to have it completed in time for action or recommendations to the legislature in this session," Dean told Haley.

One of the most critical problems on the Chain will not be solved so quickly; in fact, in the Conservation director's estimation, it poses somewhat of a dilemma. He pointed out that the Fox River, flowing out of Wisconsin, is high in silt content. When it hits the still waters of the Chain, he explained, the result is heavy sedimentation, drastically reducing the depth of the lakes in recent years.

"Are you going to continue to invest public funds in a dredging operation in conflict with what nature is doing," he asked? In raising this question, he added, he was not pre-judging the answer.

"I think we should face this decision quite squarely," Dean told the assembled residents. "If there is continuing sedimentation, there will need to be continual dredging," he said, referring to the cost of such an endeavor. Until some sort of permanent solution to the problem could be found, he stated, the government would have to continue pouring money into dredging, if that course of action were decided upon.

"I, at this point, do not know of a permanent solution to the problem of Lake sedimentation," Dean confessed.

Commission member Dick Gremley proposed that it only makes sense to reinvest tax monies raised in the Chain area back into the maintenance and improvement of the Chain. The homes, businesses and uses on the Chain generate a large amount of tax revenue, he said, from income taxes, sales taxes, gas taxes and others. If the Chain were allowed to die, Gremley warned, these tax monies would disappear.

"Let's put the tax monies back where they will continue to perpetuate themselves," he suggested.

In the midst of all the testimony concerning the problems of the Chain, State Rep. W.J. Murphy, who guided the legislation creating the commission through the State legislature, revealed that he had introduced new legislation extending the life of the body for another year. The original bill provided life for the commission only until June 30, 1974.

Commission chairman Bill Brook of Antioch said after the hearing that, even though Murphy's bill extends the life of the group, he expects some sort of progress report before the end of June.

Contest to design new Marriage Bond

Grace Mary Stern, Lake County Clerk, announced today that her office is sponsoring a contest—"one to design a more aesthetic looking Marriage Bond," she said. The bond is the commemorative certificate given free of charge to each couple applying for a marriage license in Lake County.

"We have been taking a certain amount of flak about the utilitarian appearance of our new marriage licenses," she said. "No cupids, no roses, no floral garlands," just the vital information about the couple being united.

At the suggestion of a local clergyman who found the present format "severe and absolutely without warmth" the County Clerk's office is embarking on a contest to redesign the marriage bond. "The official license will remain tailored and unsentimental," said the Clerk, "but there's no reason we can't zip up the commemorative copy a little bit. I draw the line at doves however."

All entries in the contest must be sent to the County Clerk's Office (County Building, Waukegan, Ill. 60085) between now and June 1st. The panel of judges is "in formation" said Mrs. Stern, and the question of a prize remains undetermined. "There probably will be a token prize and we hope, a lot of recognition for the winner. We're hoping for something warm but non-sticky—sentimental but simple. I guess we're looking for a masterpiece."

The winning artist, creator of the successful masterpiece, will be announced on or about June 14th.

On May 8th the Northern Illinois Professional Photographers Association will hold its monthly meeting at the Antioch Country Club. These monthly meetings by the Professional Photographers are held in a different area each month with the purpose being self-improvement for the professional photographers.

TROPICAL FISH

Care of Aquarium Tropical Fish
For the beginning or advanced aquarium hobbyist the real joy in keeping fish is to maintain tropicals of many varieties and colors.

Refer to your pet shop for information on aquarium sizes and accessories that you will need. After preparing your aquarium by cleaning and checking for leaks, landscape with cleaned gravel and rocks. When you have filled your aquarium about half full of water you may place your aquatic plants. It is best to allow the finished aquarium to stand for a few days before introducing your fish. This will give the plants time to establish themselves.

Your pet shop will give you full information on the lighting that you will need, the temperature of the water (varies according to the fish) and the proper care of fish including their ailments.

Before placing your fish be sure that the water temperature is the same between the aquarium and the container by which the fish have been carried. This will prevent any damage by "chill" when introducing them to their new environment.

Come to the Fair

"Bring a Friend to the Art Fair" is the theme selected by the art teachers of the Northwest Suburban High Schools for this year's Student Art Fair at Belvidere Mall in Waukegan Friday and Saturday, April 26th and 27th.

Two new ideas for judging will be incorporated. First, as a learning experience for the students, a panel of judges has been formed by selecting one student from each school instead of the art teachers doing the judging themselves. Janet Gallimore is Antioch's representative on this panel. Second, innovated this year will be competition between the schools, for these judges will select from all the works the Best of Show in Two Dimensional Art and Best of Show in Three Dimensional Art. They will also select the best works within each school and award appropriate ribbons, Best of School, Merit and Honorable Mention.

Because of the expanded program at Antioch Community High School, the art teachers Mrs. Jane Craner and Mrs. Sue Towns expect this to be a far superior show than in past years.

Along the Way with

Annie Mae

I bet the Walsh family ate well this week! Their mom, Mary Beth, was the gal on our back page last week running around a local food store gathering as much as she could in four minutes. Mary was the lucky winner of the Jaycees raffle held to raise money for playground equipment for our new park.

Antioch's lucky Village Clerk, Marilyn Sterbenz, drew the numbers for the door prizes at the Oakwood Knolls dance last Saturday. Hear tell Ken Jandula had trouble locating a ticket holder - until his wife discovered he had bought it himself. The band (Syncaptors of Kenosha) was super, playing the Hokey Pokey, Bunny Hop and some Italian dance I can't spell.

Saw Mrs. Alfred Roth who tells us son Dane is now stationed at the American Embassy in Viet Nam where he is teaching English to the Vietnamese. He will be there for the next three years.

Get your kites ready kids! The Jaycee Kite Fly will be held this Sunday at the high school from 1 to 5 p.m.

WE'RE MOVING! The Antioch News will be moving to its new quarters in downtown Antioch this Thursday. We will be located at 896 Main Street.

A speedy get well to Mrs. Russell Lasco, Sr. who is in Room 343 at Condell Memorial Hospital in Libertyville. I'm sure a card or two would cheer her up.

Saw Milo Bailey and family all brown as berries unpacking after their Easter holiday in Florida with Milo's mom. Too bad you didn't bring back some of that warm weather with you.

Lots of birthdays this week - congrats to Laura Horton and Jenny Schmidt on the 24th, to Ester Velcheck on the 25th, to Patti Jahneke and Jenny Stahmer on the 26th, to Bud Howard and Larry Zerr on the 28th, to Marie Wells on the 29th and to Maria Kessler who celebrates on the 30th.

Hurry Everybody - there's just 1½ more weeks until the Mental Health Cotillion. There are still some reserved tables left. Tickets are available at The First National Bank or the State Bank or by calling 395-1948 or 395-0628.

Celebrating wedded bliss this week are Joan and George Vistain and Nancy and Forrest Stahmer on the 25th and Ellen and Dick Kessler on the 26th. Best wishes you guys, hope you have many more happy years together!!

Damage window at High School

Vandals reportedly damaged a window at the south end of the Antioch Community High School building sometime last week. Porter Larsen, head custodian, told Antioch police that he had discovered what appeared to be a pellet hole in a 78-inch by 40-inch plate glass window at the school. He estimated that it would cost about $175 to replace the damaged pane.

Many Thanks

The Oakwood Knolls Property Owners Association would like to express a very warm, sincere thank you to the following merchants and friends who so generously supported us through their contribution to our Spring Dance. Through their help we were able to have a fun-filled evening and financial success.

"Trio" features old and new talent

Some experienced talent and some new blood are put to work in the innovative series of three one-act plays currently offered by PM & L. The mini-drama-festival, brought to life under the direction of Don Beveroth, will be presented this weekend and next, April 26-27 and May 3-4, at the PM & L Theatre, with curtain at 8:30 each evening.

"Trio" gets off to a strong start with Lewis John Carlino's sensitive drama, "The Dirty Old Man." Lou Jones, who stunned audiences as Don Quixote in "Man of La Mancha" and amused in "Lady Audley's Secret," is powerful in the title role of this play. His characterization never lets go, but builds in intensity to the conclusion.

Terry Rosol makes her local debut as the girl, Mary, whose path crosses that of the dirty old man. She is at once hardened and credulous, curious and skeptical.

Her "god" (they are members of the gods and goddesses of Hamilton High) is portrayed by David Oelerich, who has previously played only minor parts with PM & L. He is at ease on stage, but needs a bit more conviction to make his character real.

The dramatic pitch set in the first play is sustained in John Millington Synge's "Riders to the Sea." This is a simple, sad tale of an Irish peasant woman who has lost five of her six sons to the angry and violent sea, and watches the last son, Bartley, follow the same path.

Shirley Jensen, a veteran of many PM & L plays, is especially moving in her emotion-filled portrayal of the bereaved-mother. She receives good support and interaction from Pat Unnerstahl and Lyn Zaehler as her daughters. Dave Oelerich reappears - this time more forcefully - as Bartley.

In the "Leave 'em laughing" tradition of the theatre, PM & L's "Trio" ends with a comedy, Noel Coward's "Fumed Oak." It is a comedy of turned tables, concerning the lackluster married life of one Henry Gow. To make the humor of the situation more real, this production needs some small clue in the first scene to prepare the audience for what's coming in the second.

Don Beveroth, as the hen-pecked husband, offers his usual free-spirited performance - a bit different with each presentation, as he conceives of new things to do, fresh nuances of his character.

Tessa Smith, though a relative newcomer to the Antioch stage, has already been cast in several major roles. Here she plays Henry's wife with shrewish gusto. Aileen Biel, who has worked backstage for many seasons, brings even more conviction to her portrayal of Henry's mother-in-law. Her interaction with Tessa and her constant awareness of what the other actors are doing increase the strength of her performance.

Another new voice at PM & L is Susan Allen, pegged as Henry's whining daughter. She turns in a good performance, though there were a couple occasions when she seemed to be out of the play, merely waiting for her next line.

For those who appreciate good drama, PM & L's three one-act presentations offer a unique innovation.

Phil Schwartz

Bits from Barb

By: Barb Olson

The ACHS Golf team has begun facing its competition these last few weeks. The team has had five matches already and is trying its best to win one. Although the team has started off the season without any winnings, they might finish it with honors. The individual members of the team are doing a good job, but overall they cannot manage to work it out as a team.

This year something new has been added to the Golf team: Nancy Schaeffer. As long as Nancy sticks with the team, the golf team can no longer be labelled as the "boy's" team. Sports equality is slowly beginning to make its appearance at ACHS.

A reminder for those who have not yet purchased their tickets for "Hello Dolly". The play will be performed in the ACHS auditorium Friday and Saturday nights of this week.

The Concert Band held a bowling party last Tuesday afternoon, at the Antioch Bowling Lanes. The party had previously been scheduled for during Christmas vacation, but due to lack of participation, was postponed. A majority of the band students attended, and a good time was had by all.

Spring Vacation ended Friday and it was back to school Monday morning for all High School students in Antioch. After a week of vacation, it was difficult to get back in the swing of things at school. Groans were heard throughout the school as students thought of tests, assignments, term papers; all taking place before school lets out for summer vacation. One cheering thought for most students and especially the senior students: There are only four more weeks of school.

"Hindsight's Better Than Foresight"

By Father Keusal.

There is a wall poster that has been out for awhile that says something like, "Most people see things as they are and ask 'why' - I dream visions and ask 'why not'." "Why" implies that the "status quo" is all right, it implies stagnation, a dying process. "Why not", implies a challenge, things could be better. It implies growth, development - life.

People who ask "why" of their marriage soon find that their marriage is not developing or growing. It is in fact dying. Their marriage relationship was complete on the day of the wedding. They had goals and hopes of their own home, furniture, car, boat, a snowmobile and maybe even children. The only thing they forgot to plan was what they want their marriage relationship to become.

Happily married people have a tendency to dream realistic visions and ask "why not". Their marriage relationship conceived when they fell in love was born on the day of the wedding and continued to grow everyday of their married life. They constantly nourish their marriage relationship. They don't ask "why" does he do this? Why does she do that?

Rather the questions become why not bring her some flowers today? Why not surprise him with his favorite meal? Why not give up bowling this season so she can get that new dress for the spring party? Why not make something special for his poker friends tonight? Why not ask my spouse if there is anything I can do to help?

Spouses who ask "why not" find that their visions of a happy marriage relationship conceived when they fell in love and born on their wedding day grows into a reality.

EER and air conditioners

It can mean the difference between wasting energy and cutting your cooling costs by 25%.

You may not realize this, but some air conditioners use a lot more electricity than others to cool the same amount of space. And in the summer, when the heat gets unbearable and millions of people turn on their air conditioners to find relief, this can amount to a significant waste of electricity.

On a normal summer day, as the graph above shows, Commonwealth Edison may have to deliver three to four million kilowatts more than on an average winter day. To meet this summer demand, extra amounts of fuel must be burned. By making sure you buy the kind of air conditioner that gives the same cooling with less electricity, you can save money and save us all critically needed fuel. The thing to check is known as the EER, an engineer's term which stands for Energy Efficiency Ratio. And there's information on every air conditioner that lets you figure it out.

You don't have to be an engineer to find the EER.

All the information you need to buy an efficient air conditioner can be found on the metal plate attached to the unit.

MODEL NUMBER
VOLTS	CYCLE	PHASE
115	60	1
COOLING BTU/HR	AMPS	WATTS
6000	7.5	850

To get the EER, simply divide the BTUs by the watts. If you're comparing two 6,000-BTU models for efficiency, it would look like this:

$$\begin{array}{r} 5\text{EER} \\ 1200 \overline{) 6000 \text{ BTUs}} \\ \underline{6000} \\ 0 \end{array} \quad \begin{array}{r} 7\text{EER} \\ 850 \overline{) 6000 \text{ BTUs}} \\ \underline{5950} \\ 50 \end{array}$$

Our recommended energy efficiency ratio for an air conditioner is 7 or more; so the one with an EER of 7 is the one you should buy. Low efficiency units have EERs of around 5 or 6.

You save money, too.

You've already found that the second example is the more efficient air conditioner. It will probably cost a little more to buy, but because it's more efficient, it would cost less to operate. In the long run, an efficient air conditioner helps keep electricity rates as low as possible. And right now, an efficient air conditioner helps conserve our country's natural resources.

Sequoits defeat Cardinals 8-3

The Antioch batmen beat the Dundee Cardinals 8 to 3. Antioch won behind the pitching of Ron Jackson and Terry Lear and by the hitting of Mike Perrone.

The first inning saw Antioch score one run. Mike Perrone started out a short rally when he reached first on an error by the right fielder. Then Mike stole second while Tom Warner was at bat. Tom went to first on an error by the first baseman, advancing Mike to third. Russ Albano scored Mike on an error by the shortstop.

The second inning brought in four runs to help the Antioch cause. Ron Sheedlo started off the inning with a double. Tom Pocrnich walked, putting men on first and second. Ron Jackson singled scoring Ron Sheedlo and advancing Tom Pocrnich to third. Jerry Popp singled, scoring Pocrnich, and advancing Ron Jackson to third. Then Jon Bodin doubled and scored Ron Jackson and Jerry Popp. This ended the scoring for this inning but a threat was presented when Russ Albano singled with a man on second.

Dundee also mounted a rally in the second when many costly errors caused three runs to score.

The next Sequoit action came in the 4th inning. The Sequoits scored behind the base running of Mike Perrone. Before Mike's run, Jerry Popp and Jon Bodin mounted a threat by getting to third but they were both thrown out. Mike started out by getting on with a fielder's choice. Mike then stole second and third while Tom Warner was at bat. Tom then hit to the pitcher scoring Mike and Tom was safe by an error by the pitcher.

Dundee was halted by the great pitching of Ron Jackson and Terry Lear. Between them they allowed only three runs and 2 hits the whole game.

The last two runs of the game came to Antioch when Jud Smith and Jerry Popp scored. Jud started out with a single and was advanced to third when Jerry Popp went to single on an error. Jerry then stole second. Both Jud and Jerry scored on an overthrown ball.

4-Hers Exhibit at Lake County Gem and Mineral Show

Two members of the Antioch Adventurers 4-H Club exhibited their Geology Projects at the Lake County Gem and Mineral Show held this past weekend. Violet Meuter displayed her third year project. Karen Kirschke displayed her fourth year project which was entitled "A Historical Study of The Midwest Thru Fossils". Both girls received a 1974 Exhibitor Ribbon from the Lake County Gem and Mineral Show.

Pictures in Rocks

Carl Reichenbach, Jr., 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Reichenbach of Atioch showed his display of rocks at the Lake County Gem and Mineral show at the Fair grounds. His display on pictures in Rocks are one of a kind, because every time you cut a rock, a different scene or maybe just colors show up.

Carl also had a display of butterflies in rocks. He cuts them and polishes them out of Brazilian Agates.

The whole Reichenbach family enjoys working with rocks. Carl Sr. does the cutting, Mrs. "R" the grinding and Carl does the polishing.

Every trip the family takes throughout the U.S. and Canada they spend many hours looking for rocks. They have all read up on what to look for because some rocks are called "Leave U Rites" - that means leave them right where you found them.

The Reichenbach family are members of the Waukegan Gem and Mineral Club which meets on the third Tuesday of every month.

Kenosha Speedway to start 24th Season

Saturday night, April 27, marks the start of the Kenosha County Speedway's 24th Season. The Interstates Racing Association will promote Super Modified and Sportsman Stock Car Racing for their 7th Season.

Among the many challengers for this season will be Dick Duston of Greenfield, WI, who was the 1973 Wilmot Champion, and Roger Otto from Burlington, WI, who was the overall I.R.A. Co-Champ. Dick will head the field of Super Modified cars.

Other competitors include Carmen Menzardo from Antioch, IL, Ron Marish, Ron Bersma, Larry Ninneman and Don Sorce. Menzardo will have a new asphalt car driven last year by Johnny Reimer.

In the Sportsman Division, 1973 Champion Ron Fryer will compete along with Sid and Duke Norton, Ray Dobbs, and Lou Snyder, who will be in a 1974 Chevy Nova.

The Kenosha County Speedway is located in Wilmot, WI just north of Kenosha County "C" on the Fair Grounds. The new starting time for time trials is 6:45 p.m. with the first race beginning at 8:00 p.m.

Antioch Trackmen suffer first Dual Meet loss

For the first time in over four years, the Antioch High varsity track team lost a dual meet. However, they posted a win to bring their season dual-meet record to 3-1, and they captured fourth place at the Lake Forest Invitational.

The trackmen started the week, Monday April 15, with a 103-38 drubbing of Lake Zurich. When over a 100 points are scored in a meet those who contributed become too many to mention - it was a fine team effort.

Such was not the case on Thursday, however, as Antioch suffered its first dual meet loss in over 4 years to the Bluestreaks of Woodstock. To say the weather may have been a factor, being cold and raining, cannot dismiss the fact that Woodstock came to run and Antioch could not meet the challenge that particular day.

The sun rose again Saturday at the Lake Forest Invitational as Antioch placed fourth out of 12 teams and had many fine performances. Place winners for the Sequoits were Mark Andrews, 2nd in the 220, 3rd in the 440 and anchor man on our 2nd place (tie) mile relay team; Vic McGuire, 2nd in the high jump; Tim O'Neill, 3rd in the 880, and on the mile relay team; Ron Gramer, 5th in the 330 low hurdles, and the mile relay team; Mike Harland 3rd in the 2 mile; Mike Davis, 3rd in the 100 and 4th in the long jump and Scott Kiederlan on the mile relay team.

Monday the 22nd Antioch visited Warren and Thursday they will host Cary Grove. The following Saturday Antioch will visit North Chicago for the Warhawk Invitational at 1:00 p.m.

APRIL 24. The first American newspaper printed on a regular basis, the Boston News Letter, was published for the first time on this date in 1704.

"Caution," says Illinois Bell

It happens every spring...and summer...and fall. Homeowners put in new bushes and trees; landscapers grade new sites and builders open the earth for new buildings and subdivisions.

And thousands of telephones stop working.

Not that there's anything basically wrong with the telephones themselves. It's just that underground telephone cables are at the mercy of diggers—whether they're armed with gardeners' spades or contractors' bulldozers. One slashed cable—or even a nick in a cable—can cut off telephone communications to a hospital, the police or fire station, even a whole neighborhood.

That's why Illinois Bell Telephone asks diggers big and small, to "Call before you dig," according to Illinois Bell Manager, Mr. Don Lesperance.

"A telephone call today to your local telephone repair service number can save a lot of time, trouble and unnecessary expense," says Don Lesperance. The number is on the first page of your local directory.

"We'll check our records and if there is no buried cable where you plan to dig, the whole thing can be resolved by a telephone call. If there is buried cable on the site, we'll send a man out to locate the cable. Normally we'd like about 24 hours' notice, but we'll try to get there sooner, if we can."

Volunteers Sports Program completes successful year

The second year of a "temporary" program to provide interschool athletic competition for boys at the Antioch Upper Grade School achieved success because of the unselfish donation of time and financial support from many individuals and businesses, according to Leo McGrain, president of Antioch Boys Football, which sponsors the program.

"Without the donations from businessmen and other individuals, the program would be non-existent," McGrain commented. "We are not for profit; we rely on community funding through our raffles and private donations."

While Antioch Boys Football has sponsored the Viking team for five years, they assumed sponsorship of the basketball and wrestling teams at the Upper Grade School after funds for interschool competition were cut from the district budget two years ago, McGrain said.

This arrangement, he added, is not the most desirable. "We are doing just an adequate job, because of our limited resources and our volunteer basis," McGrain explained. "Hopefully, a more suitable arrangement can be worked out, putting the programs back on a permanent basis."

McGrain said that about 75 boys were involved this year in the 7th and 8th grade basketball and wrestling competition. With that turnout on the part of the boys, he added, the coaches were understandably disappointed to have only five parents show up at the first meeting for volunteers to help support and operate the program.

"In the future, if the program does not generate greater interest among parents of boys involved, on a volunteer basis, the costs per boy will have to be increased," McGrain stated.

Among those contributing to support the program this year were: the State Bank of Antioch, A & B Printing (Mr. & Mrs. Harold Gaston), Antioch Bowl (Joe Sterbenz), John Teresi Chev-Olds (Ray Scarpelli), Wilton Electric (Robert Wilton), Tiffany Real Estate (Jay Dziki), Leo J. Fox Trucking (Irv Buchta), Charm-glow Products (Walter Koziol), Walsh's All-Seasons (Don Walsh), First National Bank of Antioch (LaVerne Woods), Pittman Motors (Carl Abbate), Hobby Barn (Art Aerne), Walter Koziol, and Ted J. Loef.

Coaches in the program were: John O'Hara, Tom Poulos, Dick Dauck, Wilfred Wells and Tim Staples.

UNDEFEATED. Ray Young of Dolton remains undefeated in feature race action at the Waukegan Speedway by winning Saturday's 30-lapper. Young will shoot for three straight this Saturday at 8:00 p.m.

Young wins second straight feature at Waukegan Speedway

Ray Young grabbed the 30-lap feature lead on the 26th circuit Saturday night at the Waukegan Speedway to win his second straight feature race. Young, driving a 1973 Mustang, missed a clean-sweep when Dave Evans beat him in the fast heat race.

Next Saturday night the late model super stocks will return with a 30-lap feature race slated, then Saturday night late model sportsman and Sunday night super stock car racing will be on the schedule as the 1.4-mile track swings into full operation.

Following the feature race, '73 champion Bob Roper of Paramount, California, issued a challenge to Young saying his '74 Vega super-car should be ready next Saturday and he thinks he can crack the track record and win the feature the first night out. Roper won seven (7) main events at Waukegan last season.

Evans, from Crystal Lake, was Young's biggest challenge again Saturday as Evans paced the main event from the 4th thru 35th laps. Young finally passed Evans with five laps to go and maneuvered through traffic for the win...his 35th career win at Waukegan.

Evans took second money with 'Uncle Rich' Sundling of Addison in third spot. Veteran Bob Dotter won the first heat, 12-lap semi-feature and then finished fourth in the main event for his best night ever at Waukegan. Dave Weltmeyer was fifth.

Harold Haarz of Round Lake Beach became the season's first roll-over victim as he dumped his hobby stock up-side-down on the backstretch in the wild first lap of the hobby first heat. Mike Deutsch of Palatine won that race and Bill Venturini of Norwood Park took the other two heat races.

Shirt-sleeve weather greeted a large crowd as many of Chicagoland's top drivers entered the late model events. Bud Koehler of Blue Island, possibly the nation's winningest race driver with over 500 feature race wins to his credit, had a rough time with his new Camaro recording a fourth in his heat and sixth in the main. A lengthy pit-stop dropped Koehler back in the semi finish and he entered the main as an alternate.

Ted Richter of Libertyville outclassed the balance of the field in the third heat for his first super stock win ever.

Sequoits split Double Header with Panthers

The slugging Sequoits split a tough doubleheader Saturday against the always tough Round Lake Panthers. The first game was dominated by the Round Lake Panthers who showed well balanced pitching and powerful batting.

The Panthers scored early, scoring 8 runs on 7 hits before the Sequoits generated their first rally in the 5th.

After many attempts to get a rally going, the Sequoits managed to score 4 runs in the fifth. Ron Jackson started out the inning with a walk and was advanced by Frank Pleviak's single. Jon Bodin singled which scored Ron Jackson. Rick Sedar went to first on a mental error by the panthers 1st baseman, causing the bases to be loaded. Then on a wild pitch while Mike Perrone was at bat, Frank Pleviak scored and the other runners advanced. The pitcher then loaded the bases when he walked Mike. Russ Albano batted next and singled in Rick and Jon.

The last scoring for the Sequoits came in the 5th with two runs. The runs came in on the powerful hitting of Jon Bodin and Rick Sedar. Frank Pleviak started the inning with a walk. Then Jon Bodin connected with a triple, scoring Frank. Rick Sedar also tripled and scored Jon Bodin. These were the last runs, but a threat came in the seventh when Russ Albano tripled and later Terry Lear walked.

Round Lake added more runs in the fifth and sixth with 5 runs off 5 hits. These runs were with two home runs by two of their better hitters.

lead of the Police Department, Fire Department, Moose Club and the Advertiser, which have expressed interest in sponsoring some of the teams.

A meeting previously set for April 30, she said, will be an organizational meeting for those parents who have volunteered to work with the girls.
